LUNAR MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

"One small step for man . . .
one giant leap for mankind"

While the world watched Sunday, July 20th, American Astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin became the first men to set foot on another planet.
TV screens in millions of homes recorded the historic two hours they spent outside the lunar vehicle Eagle following a tense manual control landing at 1.16 M. S. T.
The mission was accomplished safely when the Eagle rocketed off the moon 21½ hours after landing to a reunion with the command ship Columbia and Astronaut Michael Collins who had orbited the moon during the landing.

P.M. VISITS PEMBINA FIELD INSTALLATIONS

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, on a helicopter tour of the Alberta oil industry, visited Mobil Oil's Westbank water injection plant last Friday afternoon.

The tour left Nampah air base Friday morning with stops at Onoway, Embarras and the Brazeau Dam before arriving at the Mobil plant on the Saskatchewan River near Drayton Valley shortly after 2:00 p.m.

The P.M., accompanied by aides and the Ottawa press corps, arrived in two R.C.A.F. helicopters. The party was met at the plant by Mr. Ed Barroll of Calgary, Vice President in charge of production for Mobil.

Mr. Barroll introduced Mr. Trudeau to Area Superintendent Don Bester and a small group of company employees and Drayton Valley Mayor Dr. Henry Shimbashi.

He was conducted on a tour of the plant and took a keen interest in features of the Pembina Oilfield explained by Mr. Barroll. The swing through Alberta was for fact-finding purposes only and provided little opportunity for public appearances.

Rocky Mountain M.P. Allen Sulatycky joined the P.M.'s party during a stop near Edson but was forced to leave after the Drayton Valley visit to return to Nojack where Mrs. Sulatycky was held up with car trouble.

During his stop at Westbank, Mr. Trudeau was presented with a copy of the Drayton Valley

School Proposal Vote Thursday

A small group of interested voters was present in the Drayton Valley Elementary School last Thursday evening to hear details of the proposed new high school to be built in Evansburg by the Edson-Stony Regional School Division.

The proposal was outlined by Parkland Superintendent H. Toews with Secretary A.W. Boychuk and County Councillor Ivan Vowk also taking part in the meeting chaired by Mr. Tom Johnson.

Many questions were raised from the floor and answered by the panel before the meeting ended.

Electors are reminded that voting on the plebiscite will take place on Thursday, July 24th between 3:00 and 8:00 p.m. All proprietary electors in Parkland County and Edson School Division are entitled to vote.

Rural Speed Limit 50

The Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways and Transport, announces that in accordance with the amendment to the Highway Traffic Act passed by the Legislature at the last session, the speed limit on all roads in the Province of Alberta outside of urban areas, excepting primary or numbered highways, is now 50 miles per hour unless a sign indicating a higher rate of speed is posted. The speed limit on these rural roads is now 10 miles per hour less than previous, when the speed limit was 60 miles per hour.

On primary highways, except where a greater or lower rate of speed is posted by signs along a highway, the speed limit remains at 60 miles per hour during the daytime and 50 miles per hour during nighttime.

United Church Wedding Scene

Drayton Valley United Church was the scene of a summer wedding on July 12th, when Miss Bernice Mary Martin became the bride of Samuel Paul Hruschack. Rev. Martin officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, on the arm of her father, was radiant in a full length gown of white nylon net over taffeta with long lily point sleeves. Her short veil was held in place with a headpiece of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink and white mums in the form of a cross.

The bridesmaids, Bonnie Martin, Deborah Harold and Glenda Pryor, were all arrayed in Aqua blue nylon net over taffeta, with headpieces of little pink flowers. They carried bouquets of small pink mums. The flower girl, Loretta Martin, wore a short pink nylon over taffeta dress and her flowers and headpiece matched the bridesmaid's.

The best men were Yakim Hruschack, Pepper Martin and Bill Antoniuk. The ushers were Ray Hallet and Harry Hruschack.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Martin wore a deep rose, 3-piece suit with white accessories, while Mrs. Hruschack, mother of the groom, chose a light pink suit with white accessories.

A reception for 135 guests was held in the Tomahawk Community Hall.

The bride's table was beautifully decorated with a three tier wedding cake, (made by Mrs. Eunice Pryor), and flanked by spring flowers.

A wedding dance followed the reception. The bride and groom will reside in the Moon Lake district.

Dear Sir:

Please allow me to respond to the article "The Niton View" which appeared in the July 9th issue of your paper. I would also like to present the Board's thinking with respect to the regional high school.

Numerous attempts have been made over the last few years to arrive at a solution to the high school education problem in the eastern part of the Edson School Division, but each time the attempt ended in a stalemate since the most important factor to some people seemed to be the location of the school rather than what the school could offer. The Board of Trustees feel that one of the most important factors in the solution to the problem is the kind of program that the school can economically offer. They have been supported by both Wildwood and Evansburg who have requested better high school programs. In order to offer a variety of programs; business education, matriculation, vocational preparation, and general diploma programs, it is essential to have a student population of at least 300. Therefore, since the school division does not have 300 students in the eastern portion of the division any solution to the high school education problem must include a plan to get more students. Thence, the reason for the formation of the high school district.

To offer this variety of programs in a high school with less than 50 students is just not economically sound. As of September 30, 1968 the average class size in the Niton High School was 10.5. Can we afford to offer home economics and industrial arts as suggested and further reduce the class size? We were charged with "delaying the hiring of additional teachers". Can we really afford to hire additional teachers with the high school classes so small and with average class size in the whole school being no higher than the average class size in the whole division?

As for Niton offering "complete academic and commercial high school programs" it should be noted that during the 1968-69 year Niton offered 30 credits in business education while Parkland Composite offered 70 credits. The total possible offering is 124. Complete?

The suggestion that the Board has not provided proper facilities and equipment at Niton is contrary to the Board philosophy of equality of education for all. The Niton school is as well equipped and maintained as all other schools in the division. During the current year, of the $17,037.00 approved for equipment, Niton is receiving $2,374 worth of equipment. This means they have been allotted 13.93 per cent of the equipment budget. As of September, 1968, Niton had 5.9 per cent of the students in the division. While these statistics refer only to the current year, the Board has not neglected this school in any other year. The building at Evansburg has been maintained as well as it could have been considering that part of the building is over 40 years old and is getting extremely difficult to keep in good condition.

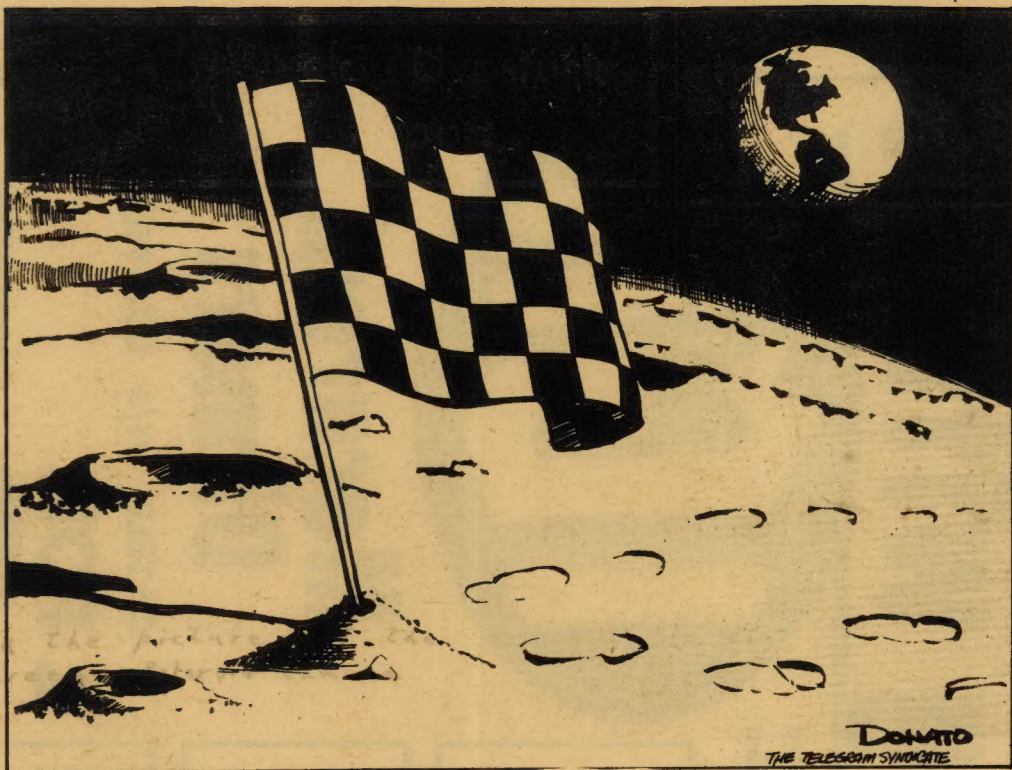

The situation should also be made clear in regard to the construction of Parkland Composite

High School in Edson. It is true that the school has only 323 students now. However, it should be pointed out that it also offered home economics and industrial arts to 171 students from Jubilee Junior High during 1968-69. Next year it will offer these courses to approximately 350 students from Jubilee. Furthermore, in 1969-70 Parkland will have an enrolment of approximately 400 and in three years it will be operating at full capacity with about 530 students. Thus, the more costly process of building in stages was avoided since the enrolment would soon reach over 500 anyhow, and furthermore, by building when we did we were able to get federal vocation grants of $490,344.53 which we could not get if we built later. These grants amount to 33.5 per cent of the total cost of the building. Besides, higher interest rates and construction costs were also avoided.

The bogle of higher taxation due to school construction in the west end of the division should not be carried too far. The total debenture cost of building projects in the division is $7,107,658 plus interest since 1944. Presently there is $4,940,160 left owing in principal and $2,759,557 in interest. The payment on these debentures this year is $622,845. Of this amount the majority, $542,297, is paid by the provincial government while only $80,548 comes out of local taxes. This means that approximately only 3½ mills in local taxation is the result of the school construction over the last 20 years. Incidentally, this year was the high point for our debt payments, next and subsequent years it will be less.

A number of misconceptions regarding the regional high school Board's handling of the demands for plebiscite, were noted. The Regional High Board gave careful consideration to each demand for a plebiscite rather than the suggestion that they were "casually thrown out". Careful consideration must be given since the wishes of the people (who are in a majority) who did not demand a plebiscite must also be guarded. It was found that eleven of the demands for a plebiscite were invalid for a variety of reasons. The most common reason was that those signing the demands did not own property within the district for which they signed. Mr. Justice Primrose in his judgement did not find the Board at fault. In his words: "It seems to me that the Respondent (the Board) was acting reasonably and was not improper or autocratic in refusing the demands for the reasons given, and while I agree with the Applicant as to one or two of the demands, I find that there were not sufficient demands as required by the Statute".

The rest of the litigation revolved around whether the Ministerial Order was within the powers of the minister. The order declared that for the purposes of holding a plebiscite a regional high school district should be treated as a division rather than a district (as is indicated by the School Act). Mr. Justice Primrose felt that the order was "a necessary direction to implement the provisions of the Act and is within his jurisdiction". The appeal to Mr. Justice Primrose's judgement was not based at all on the number of demands for poll or upon the manner in which the Board dealt with the demands. It was based entirely on the validity of the ministerial order. The judges of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court ruled that the Ministerial Order was invalid since it was of a legislative nature. Thus, because the judges found the order to be invalid, then the provisions of the School Act (which indicates that a regional high school district shall be treated as a district for the purposes of holding a plebiscite) apply and therefore, only 50 signatures are necessary. Since there were 50 signatures on the demands that were not rejected this was the reason for the judge ordering a poll. It had nothing to do with the Board's handling of the demands.

Although the statement is made that "the court proved extremely costly for the Niton area people who were forced to pay the entire courts costs out of their own pockets", this is completely erroneous since the entire court costs of $594.80 were paid by the regional high school district. Readers please note also that the Alberta Government did not present a new money by-law as was stated; this was done by the high school district.

The major Niton objection of the distance that students would have to travel and the resulting increase in drop-outs may not be as serious as feared. This school already has a high rate of drop-out; 50 per cent of the class which comprises the grade twelve now have dropped out since grade one, 51.5 per cent of the class which comprises the grade eleven now have dropped out since grade one, while 40 per cent of the class which comprises the grade ten now have dropped out since grade one.

Furthermore, the distance problem is not as serious as anticipated. The students north of Niton will have to travel the farthest distance, approximately 45 miles. However, because they will travel most of the way on a paved highway with an express bus, the travelling time will not be greater than that travelled at the present time by students from Robb to Edson or from Shining Bank and Mahaska to Edson. Furthermore, it should be noted that only a few students will have to travel up to 45 miles. At present there are only 8 high school students in Beaver Meadow and Winfield districts which are the farthest north of Niton. The concentrations of population in the Niton School area are at Carrot Creek, Niton, and Mackay. Thus, the travelling time of the majority of students from Carrot Creek and Peers Junction area to Edson and from Mackay to Evansburg with express buses would be very little greater than it is now to Niton.

In conclusion, I must point out that the building at Evansburg must be replaced if there is a negative vote on the debenture. The regional high school is preferred to a replacement since it can offer a more extensive program. The students in this eastern area deserve a school that can offer a program compatible to their needs and interests.

Yours truly,
George Monsma,
Chairman
Edson School Division
Board

Plan Rodeo Bus Service

To relieve the anticipated congestion of automobiles at the West Valley Park during the Evergreen Rodeo, plans have been announced for a bus service from down town to the grounds on August 15th and 16th.

Buses will leave the Centennial Civic Centre every 10 minutes between 11:30 a.m. and 9:30 p.m. during the two days of the rodeo.

It is expected that a small charge (10¢ has been suggested) will be levied for the ride and patrons will be required to have rodeo admissions before boarding the bus to avoid stopping at the gate.

GARBAGE PUT TO GOOD USE

A unique Japanese garbage disposal system which produces near-solid, asphalt-encased, two ton cubes for sanitary landfill and the construction of retaining walls is being introduced into Canada, according to Heavy Construction News.

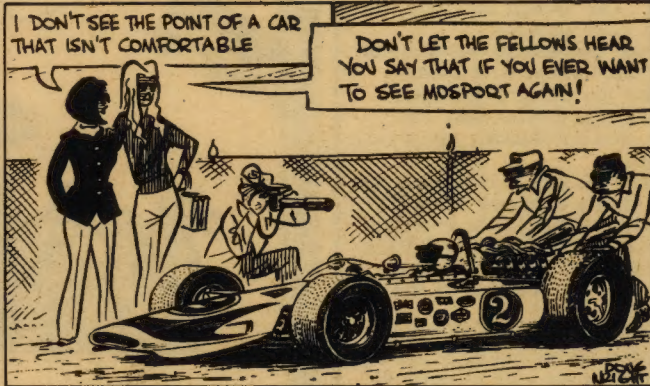

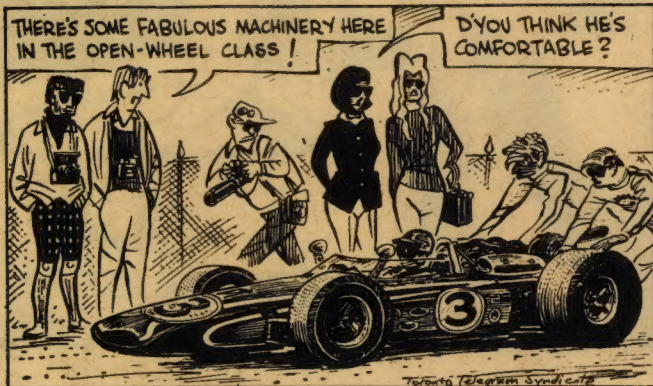

The system consists of a giant press which compacts non-organic garbage into cubes, wraps them in wire mesh and then transfers them into a tank of liquid asphalt. After water cooling, the asphalt casing hardens into an almost unbreakable and leak-proof covering.

A single press produces one cube every seven minutes and can process about 100 tons of garbage in an eight-hour shift.

Recreation Ramblings

By SYD. MOORE

May I begin this week by extending a very sincere thank-you on behalf of Skip and myself to all those who forwarded their condolences with respect to the loss of a member of our family, and to those people who carried the additional work loads in the office and in the communities while I was away.

Most of the programs are off and running, some with problems and some with none. The playground leaders are certainly involved very suddenly, and they can expect the loads to increase as the program gains momentum. Leaders in many cases have discovered a new dimension to the real meaning of recreation and have taken the time to express their concerns and beliefs. A good example is Miss Judy Mann, who is working at the Seba Beach playground. Judy has written the following to be published in "Ramblings".

"What is the purpose of a playground? Every thoughtful person recognizes the importance of play to a child; it is his business. The child's world is one of make-believe in which imagination is unrestrained and activity can be enjoyed for its own sake. Play is not only a physical necessity, but a psychological requirement for wholesome adjustment and the natural growth of the child. Without free play his life cannot be normal, and a child who has not learned how to play can become a social misfit through being overly aggressive, indifferent, or feeling inferior.

On our playgrounds, your child will find constructive outlets for energy, opportunities for self-expression, social awareness, lessons in good behavior and mental and emotional stability. My main objectives as a leader are: to provide a safe place for children to play, to teach social, creative and physical skills, to develop good health through outdoor activities, to build character by providing recognition, satisfaction, encouragement and opportunities to accept responsibility.

Make no mistake, playgrounds are not frills. They are not organized to supply baby-sitting service es or to keep children off the street! Playgrounds can acquaint children with the fourth "R" in their learning process: RECREATION. Through acquired physical, social and creative skills and the knowledge of how to play with others, the child is being equipped to use wisely the hours of leisure that he will have as an adult.

Playgrounds are places where kids can have some good, clean fun, and going to one is an experience in itself. Can you think of a more constructive way for your child to spend his leisure time? (Three cheers for the communities who are actively supporting their playgrounds!)

I think that 38 other playground leaders in our County and 3800 other playground leaders in our province would all readily endorse Judy's comments, ideas and enthusiasm.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Seely

Couple Honored On Anniversary

On Saturday, July 5th a surprise celebration was planned by the sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seely for their parents for their 40th wedding anniversary. Over one hundred relatives came from near and far to help make this a memorable occasion for the honored couple.

For some, this was their first trip to Alder Flats and they did not let all the rain and mud deter them from coming. This occasion also served a dual purpose as a family reunion when many met one another for the first time.

Eugene Seely and Ethel Nate were married at Lethbridge on June 4th, 1929, they farmed for a short period at Sterling and New Dayton and in 1933 came west to Alder Flats in a covered wagon with their two small sons J.L. and Doyle to take up farming in this district. In years to come another six children were born to this union, four sons, Dalvin of Tangent, Melvay of Drayton Valley, Larry of Golden, B.C. and Dallas of Alder Flats, J.L. and Doyle also reside in Alder Flats, two daughters, Bev (Mrs. Al Clemmer) of Swan Hills and Ethel (Mrs. Carl Janke) of Alder Flats.

All the children, their wives, husbands and families were home for the celebration, the grandchildren now total twenty-two, also all of Mr. Seely's brothers and sisters were able to attend

The bride of forty years ago was attired in a coral tulle dress, complimented by a white corsage. Mr. Seely wore a gray tweed suit, both outfits were presented to them from their children. The children also presented them with a photo album, in it were pictures going back to their childhood days, this involved a lot of research and letter writing but this album will bring back many memories to Gene and Ethel.

Dan Seely, a brother of Gene's, was master of ceremonies and did a fine job of toasting the couple with the reading of memoirs in verse form he had composed about the couple. Grace was said by Ardella Bennett, a sister of Ethel's.

In the evening, open house and a dance was held with music supplied by "The Oil Tones". In charge of the guest book was Mrs. Janet Seely and Mrs. Elsie Seely.

Present for the occasion were and all but one brother (Alvin Nate of Lethbridge) of Mrs. Seely's came.

Mr. and Mrs. Seely are still active in farming and ranching and Mr. Seely still enjoys helping out at the Buck Lake Stampede each year.

In the community hall, a setting for over one hundred was catered to by the Alder Flats Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

The head table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake baked by their daughter Bev and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Anne Capaniuk of Alder Flats, it was adorned with roses and little doves and a bell on top trimmed with lace and signifying 40th anniversary.

Mrs. Seely's sisters, Ardella Bennett and daughter of Magrath, Mr. and Mrs. (Phyllis) John Peterson of Sterling and her brother Glen Nate of Magrath, Mr. Seely's sisters and brothers present were, Mr. and Mrs. (Alice) Ray Sampson of Spokane, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. (Ila) Vernon McLeod and Ray Seely of Nanton, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Seely and family of Stavely and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Seely of Gem and Mr. and Mrs. Don Seely of Rimbey.

Other relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Anderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brewster and Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Passey all of Calgary, Mrs. A. Christenson and family of Taber, Mrs. Keith Bland of Rimbey, Norma Simpson of Victoria, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Allan McCoy and family and Mr. and Mrs. Collin Passey all of Magrath, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Seely of Gem, Ronna Ray of Yakima, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Seely and family of Alder Flats, Ladene Flynn of B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Don Falligon and Merle of Golden, B.C.

Prior to this celebration a barbecue supper was held at the J.L. Seely's on June 6th for Mr. and Mrs. Seely and Mr. and Mrs. Al Clemmer, whose anniversaries are the same date, this is an annual event for the Seelys.

Weather Delays Highway Work

Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways and Transport, reports that more than 84 miles of grading, about 31% of the program, has now been completed. This compares unfavourably with the 1968 record, when 45% of the program was completed at this time.

More than 61 miles of base course has been laid, being 24% of the program; last year 30% of the program was completed at the same time.

More than 69 miles of asphaltic plant mix has been applied, being 24% of the program; last year 25% was completed.

More than 46 miles of seal coating has been applied, being 17% of the program; last year 56% of the seal coating was completed at the same date.

Unseasonably heavy rains in the Calgary and south-central area from mid-June to early July have appreciably hampered the program particularly the grading construction. The major freeway projects on the Trans-Canada Highway and the Airdrie-Balzac section of Highway #2 were particularly hard hit.

The program in the Edmonton and northern region was progressing ahead of schedule until the third week in June when considerable rainfall in the area slowed the pace of work.

The seal coating program, which is critically dependent on good weather, has been seriously set back due to rains in the Calgary and Banff areas.

There is still bright hopes that the entire program will be completed during this year.

LOSING TO WIN

Now that holidays and swimsuit season is upon us the problem of creeping poundage seems more evident. Creeping poundage is difficult to escape in present day living. All around us are exciting, tasty foods and we have the money to afford them.

Overweight is not a problem in parts of the world where food choices are very limited. With our unlimited choice, one's appetite is always being excited by the sight of so many exciting foods in magazines, on T.V. and in super-markets. Our appetites race ahead of our ability to withstand the temptation. How many times have we heard ourselves say "I really shouldn't but ---?"

Did you know---? For a man of 45, an increase of 25 lbs. above his normal weight reduces his life expectancy by 25%. He dies at 60 rather than 80. Fad diets are false and misleading. Weight loss is fluid loss, NOT fat loss. Once normal eating resumes, fluid balance is restored and weight increases. It is an outdated notion that a diet is synonymous with "rabbit-food". Actually, we can eat many of the foods we're accustomed to eating, but in smaller proportions and perhaps prepared differently.

The usual reason for gaining weight is that the food we eat contains more calories than our bodies use up in energy and the excess is stored as fat. The cure is simple -- eat less -- do more. Let's not forget the importance of exercise. Two good exercises are: 1) Shake your head at the second helping. 2) Push yourself away from the table.

For that extra ounce of motivation contact my office for the following bulletins on weight control:

Another Cub Dies Climbing Power Pole

Another bear cub ended his life atop a power pole south of Buck Creek last Wednesday. Earlier this summer a cub met the same fate near Drayton Valley. Calgary Power crews responding to a service call to blacked-out well sites in the area, found the cub at the top of the pole. The mother bear, after ripping and clawing at the bottom of the pole in an attempt to reach the cub, had apparently just left as crews arrived on the scene. Hill Innis is shown here with the bear cub.
